THE EPIPHIPPIC.

NEARLY EVERY HORSE IN THE CITY ATTACKED.

Oxen and Mules Only Seen on the Streets.

ITS SPREAD IN THE COUNTRY.

Appearance of the Horse Dropsy.

Nearly every horse in the city with the exception of a few old hardened sta-gers, are now down with the malady, but up to a late hour last evening no fatal cases were reported. Only the overworked horses seem to be suffering from the malady, those that have been properly attended to and well fed have it only in a mild form. The well-known "Tom Benton" of Dr. Eugene Gra-son, the fine black charger of Dr. F. B.

Haywood Jr., and the pair of mares of Dr. Jas. McKee, succumbed yesterday morning. The old "Roan" of Dr. Fab Haywood, Sr., Dr. Wm. G. Hill's "Dun," Dr. Chas. E. Johnson's old "Whitey" and Dr. Burke Haywood's pair still hold out, but all of our young M. D.'s are either on foot or accommodate themselves to mule transportation.

The horses at the three public stables are all on the mend, and the proprietors expect to resume business in a very few days.

It is generally believed that we are now in the midst of the crisis, and its worst is being passed. Very few horses are seen on the streets, all the drays and public carts being drawn by mules and oxen. Wood is scarce, but owing to the large importation of oxen from the country the price so far has not been raised. Contrary to the expectation and fears of many in this city the market is well supplied with meat, vegetables, &c., from the country, and there has been no occasion for an advance in these commodities. So much for being prepared and conveniently located for oxen transportation, which though slow, is yet the cheapest. From several points in the country we learn with regret that the epizootic is spreading to nearly every farm, but fortunately for our farmers, it occurs at a season that the loss of time does not conflict with the farming interest.

For the benefit of our country friends (and all others) we publish below a number of articles which we take from a late number of a celebrated medical journal, and especially recommended by a leading physician of this city:

"The patient should be excused from all labor and allowed complete rest. The stables should be cleaned and well ventilated. Disinfectants may be useful and in some stables necessary. Any of the following will answer: Carbolic acid, sulphate of iron, or bromo-chloroform. The patient should be properly groomed, and the nose and eyes frequently sponged with water, and the limbs, if cold, bandaged. The drink should have the chill slightly removed, but not enough to make it warm and unpalatable. The diet should be light and of a laxative nature; say soup feed or bran, wetted or scalded, with a little salt added. Hay in limited quantities may be allowed.

"In regard to remedies I wish to say that heroic treatment should not be tolerated. Blood-letting cathartic na-useates, and arterial sedatives are all of them, whether injurious or uncalled for.
Next, whatever medicines are administered should not be given in the form of draughts or drenches, as the animal is sure to be thrown into a paroxysm of coughing the moment a drench is attempted, and some of the medicine will be in such event, be almost sure to find its way into the windpipe and bronchial tubes, thus inducing fatal bronchitis or pneumonia. Balls should not be given as they will be coughed back or out, and the irritability of the throat will be increased in attempting to pass them with the hand or finger. Powders are well-nigh useless, as when mixed with the food the patient will usually refuse both food and powders. Electuaries, syrups, or pastes are the only forms in which medicines may be successfully administered in cases where the throat is tender and irritable, and coughing easily induced.

"Saline medicines I regard as the most useful in this disease. Any of the following will answer:—Chlorate of potash, murate of ammonia, or hyposulphate of soda. As an anodyne to relieve the cough, fluid extract of bella-donna may be added. The proper dose of either of these medicines may be rubbed up with two or three ounces of honey or molasses, and these poured in the mouth from a small bottle or placed on the tongue with a spoon. Given in this way the medicines will be readily lapped up and easily swallowed. But little trouble is required to give it, and no danger of getting any medicine into the trachea will be incurred by the method. About the throat and over the wind-pipe, a sharp stimulating liniment should be rubbed in. In cases that should be severe, or are complicated with other and more serious diseases, a competent veterinarian should be employed."

We are now pained to record the most alarming symptoms of the Epizootic that has yet occurred in the city, viz:

the appearance of the Horse Dropsy, which, according to our telegrams yesterday morning, attacks horses that have suffered severely from the Epizootic.

The cases referred to appeared in the stables of Samuel Merrill, Esq., Superintendent of the Raleigh Gas Works. The symptoms were nearly in accordance with those contained in our telegrams from New York yesterday morning, viz:

Swelling of the belly and legs, and other symptoms as described. Only a few mules have as yet taken the Epizootic, and we are glad to say the malady does not spread in this direction. If the mules and cattle are taken with it as is reported in other localities, then we will indeed be in a pitiable condition.

From other localities, as will be seen by our telegrams the malady is raging.

MEETING OF THE BOARD OF CITY COMMISSIONERS.—A call meeting of the Board of City Commissioners was held Wednesday evening. His honor, Mayor Whitaker, presiding. Present, Gorman, Prairie, Battle, Upchurch, Stronach and Ellison, colored.

The meeting being called to receive the report of the Committee appointed a previous meeting to locate the new fair grounds, in conjunction with a Committee from the State Agricultural Society, a report from the same was called for.

Capt. T. F. Lee on the part of the Committee, stated verbally that the Committee after examining several points and locations had finally settled on the plot of ground known as Cook's, on the Hillsborough Road, about 1 1/2 miles from the Capitol, belonging to Mrs. Brown, and could be purchased for $50 per acre.

Capt. Lee accompanied the report with a statement of facts showing the natural advantages of the location.

After much discussion, on motion of Mr. Prairie, the meeting adjourned till yesterday morning at 9 o'clock, that the Commissioner absent may be enabled to vote on the adoption or rejection of the report.

THURSDAY MORNING, 9 A. M.

All the Commissioners present except Mr. Churchill.

Dunston, col., moved to rescind the resolution offered by Capt. Gorman at the meeting on Wednesday night, and a committee be appointed by the Mayor to act with the committee of the Agricultural Society in the selection of grounds for the Society, the action of said committee to be final.

The motion was laid on the table by a vote of 5 to 3.

Capt. Gorman then moved that the report of the Executive Committee of the State Agricultural Society in regard to the location of the ground at Cook's Hill be adopted.

The yeas and nays being called, the vote stood as follows:

Yeas.—Messrs. Stronach, Gorman, Upchurch, Johnson and Ellison.

Nays.—Messrs. Battle and Prairie.—2.
Dunston, col., was excused from voting.

The minority then asked that their protest against the adoption of the report be recorded. Granted.

RALEIGH BAPTIST AND EPISCOPAL CHURCHES.—"Mecklenburg," the intelligent Raleigh correspondent of the Norfolk Journal, speaks as follows of the above named Churches:

"The people of this capital are surely more than ordinarily blessed in all that pertains to their worship. The churches are all comfortable and well constructed; two of them are notably large, and one is exceedingly beautiful. In a wide and various observation roving over many lands, I have seen and entered few shrines to the "Living God" more appropriately and pleasingly beautiful, without and within, than "Christ Church" in Raleigh.

I have not space to describe or criticize.
But I enjoy, for their own sakes, all who may contemplate a visit hither to come prepared to remain over one Sabbath at least, and to go that day to the Episcopal service. Neither eye nor ear will soon forget the impression they will certainly bear a good and devout sermon if the venerable pastor in regular charge should be in the pulpit. And they will be sure to hear the superb music both of voice and instrument, if the present choir remains in the gallery.
Whoever plays the organ there, especially, must be a pure and good spirit, as well as an inspired Miriam in her art.
Altogether, I find it hard here to keep up my wonted impartiality as to the several churches—and it hard to ever pass the Episcopal for any other. But there is so much to attract to some of the others, too, I do not much fear I shall ever neglect any of them.

The Baptist Church is an apparently new and very handsome structure; very large for a place of this size and population; and the pastor, Dr. Pritchard, is a man whose graces and abilities would distinguish and attract to any pulpit; and were they but ordinary, his voice and articulation alone, with zeal, would make his ministry a popular and successful one."

We shall publish to-morrow what he says about the Presbyterian Church.
We advise "Mecklenburg" to go next Sunday to the Methodist Church and listen to the popular pastor, Rev. A. W.
Mangum, whose sermons are always impressive and eloquent."

MEETING OF THE EXECUTIVE COM-MITTEE OF THE STATE AGRICULTURAL SOCIETY.—The Executive Committee of the State Agricultural Society met in the parlor of the Yarrowborough House yesterday at 1 o'clock.

Col. T. M. Holt, President, in the Chair.

The Committee previously appointed to confer with the Board of the City Commissioners, relative to the new site for the fair grounds, reported the result of their action together with a copy of the Commissioners report at a meeting of that body at 9 o'clock A. M.

The proceedings of the Board of Commissioners having been read, the following gentlemen were appointed a Committee to wit: T. F. Lee, W. J. Hicks, N. S.

Harp, W. G. Upchurch and Gen. R. F.
Hoke, to purchase a lot of land known as Cook's Hill, for the new fair grounds.

This site is located 1 1/2 of a mile from the Western limits of the city immediately on the line of the N. C., and the Raleigh and Augusta Air Line Railroad.

The committee was further empowered to make all necessary arrangements for the erection of suitable buildings, for the general arrangement of the ground, &c., and to report from time to time to the Executive Committee. By a unanimous vote the President, Colonel T. M.
Holt, was added to the committee.

A committee consisting of the following gentlemen: Dr. G. W. Blackhall, Colonel J. M. Heck, John G. Williams, H.
Mahler and A. Creech were appointed to lay off the old fair grounds into lots and to sell the same, together with the buildings thereon, the proceeds of such sale to be placed in the hands of the Treasurer, and to be paid over to the committee in charge of the new grounds.

It was decided to hold monthly meetings of the Executive Committee, on the first Thursday of each month, at which time it is hoped and expected that as many members of the "Advisory" Committee, that can find it convenient to attend will be present.

PROMINENT ARRIVALS.—The following leading citizens of Richmond, Virginia, arrived at the Yarrowborough House yesterday, being the Committee appointed to inspect the Richmond and Danville Railroad, and the North Carolina Division. They came by special train. The members of the Committee of Inspection were Wm. B. Isaacs, Banker and member of the City Council, and Thomas D. Neal, tobacco merchant.

They were accompanied by the following well-known citizens of Richmond:
Maj. Walter G. Turpin, Engineer James River Improvements, David J. Burr, Ex-President Chamber of Commerce and Secretary Virginia Home Insurance Company, F. G. Coghlan, of the Richmond Engineer, Secretary Chamber of Commerce and Corn Exchange, R. E.
Blankenship, Superintendent Belle Isle Nail Works, Parker Campbell, Banker, P. H. Starke, member City Council, and Capt. T. M. R. Talcott, Engineer and Supt. R. & D. R. R.

These gentlemen express themselves as being exceedingly pleased with the condition of the Road, and the courtesy and hospitality extended to them at every point. They will return this morning to Richmond.

MARRIAGES IN HALIFAX COUNTY.— In the county of Halifax on Thursday, two young couples were made happy by being united in the bonds of marriage. Our young friend John T.
Alsup, of Enfield, led to the altar, Miss Annie M. Bell, daughter of Col. D. B.
Bell, of that place. They are now daughter of Edwin Clark, Esq., of the STATE MATTERS.

The Newbern Times says: James H. Moore, a young man about 17 years of age, residing about five miles up the Neuse river, met with a terrible accident early Tuesday morning from the accidental discharge of a gun, which tore off his fingers (except the little one) off his left hand into fragments. He was brought into the city by some friends, who improvised a tourniquet with a piece of fish line to staunch the elution of blood, and on arrival was placed under the care of Dr. H. G. Bates, who amputated the remainder of the third finger, the bone of which was badly shattered. The Doctor thinks by proper care, and under his treatment the little finger can be saved.

This Greensboro Patriot says we are called upon this week to record the sudden death at the residence of Rev. Mr. Wilson on Friday last, of Rev. James Reid, one of the oldest ministers of the Methodist denomination in this State.

He had been suffering for some time previous to his visit from chills, and on Friday morning was in apparently good health enough to attend to business, but in the afternoon was suddenly attacked by apoplexy, and about 4 o'clock fell into that sleep which knows no earthly waking.

It will be remembered that he was elected State Superintendent of Instruction last August.

Thus, at the age of 80, he passes from labor to rest, sincerely mourned by those to whom his best days were devoted.

The Wilmington Journal of Wednesday gives the following account of the funeral of the late Col. Cowan: The last and final service was yesterday afternoon paid to the remains of the lamented Col. Robert H. Cowan. At 3 o'clock the funeral cortege left his residence on North Front street, followed by a large number of sorrowing friends and relatives, and escorted by the two steam fire engine companies, a detachment of Cadets from the Cape Fear Academy, the officers of the 3rd North Carolina Regiment, the Vestry of St. James Church, and gentlemen of the Chamber of Commerce and others.

The remains were taken to St. James Church, of which the deceased was a member, where the beautiful ritual for the dead of the Protestant Episcopal Church was pronounced over them by Rev. A. A. Watson, D. D., assisted by Rev. George Patterson and Rev. Mr. Joyner, the Bishop also being present, after which they were followed to their last resting place at Oakdale.

A Bridegroom Commits Suicide on His Wedding Day.

A Dublin telegram to the London Daily Telegraph, dated October 25th, says: "A shocking event took place yesterday morning. A marriage was to take place between Hubert de Burgh, a young barrister, and son of a major in the army, and Miss Margaret Rogers, a daughter of a magistrate. Both parties belonged to the best Dublin society. The marriage was to take place at St. Peter's church, and at the hour fixed for its celebration the bridal party entered the church. The bridegroom did not make his appearance, and after some delay, a messenger was dispatched to Mr. de Burgh's house. On reaching the house he found that the bridegroom had, after carefully dressing himself for the bride, returned to his bedroom and cut his throat with a razor.

On learning what had taken place the bridal party broke up amid a very distressing scene, the bride being conveyed home in an insensible state. Mr. de Burgh's injuries are said to be mortal. Great efforts were made by the family to keep the occurrence secret. Even the police were not aware of it at an early hour this morning. The following details have been ascertained: Mr. Hubert de Burgh is about twenty-seven years of age, and was recently called to the bar, after a distinguished course in Trinity College. He is a man of considerable literary talent, and has contributed to the College Magazine. After the bridal party had waited an hour, a message arrived that he had been taken so suddenly ill, that version of the facts being given to spare the feelings of the bride, whose grief was intense. It appears, however, that he had dressed, de Burgh inflicted five gashes with a razor on his throat, and was found on the floor bleeding by a servant. There are various reports as to the cause, one being that some of his family disapproved of the match and refused to be present at the wedding. This, however, is denied by his father, Major de Burgh, who can assign no cause for the melancholy act, which was the last thing to be expected from Mr. de Burgh's disposition and character."

PUNISHMENT BY ELECTRICITY.

This novel method of punishment is recommended in France. One correspondent writes that it would have beneficial effects upon malefactors as a preventive if it could only be applied. "It has been resorted to," he adds, "in order to domesticate a couple of zebras and a kangaroo which would never before submit to bit or rein. Now, by means of a bit composed of brass wire, and communicating with an electric pile, these capricious animals, who could not be broken in before, are driven about the mischievous they receive a dose of the voltaic current, which reduces them to obedience."

From the Kansas City Times, Nov. 8.

Horrible Wife Murder at Topeka, Kansas.

Details reached this city last evening concerning a most horrible tragedy perpetrated near or in Topeka, by a physician well known in this city, a man of the name of Dr. J. S. Milligan, a man of fine family and a warm personal friend of all who knew him. The particulars of this bloody affair are given by Dr. J. S. Milligan, who was an eyewitness to nearly the entire proceeding, who describes it as one of the most sickening sights he has ever witnessed.

On Wednesday morning Dr. Milligan met with Dr. Ashmore, and was invited by him to accompany him out for a drive over the city, which invitation was accepted. Ashmore appeared to be flushed and excited by liquor, and very generously jubilant over the election of General Grant. Soon after leaving Ashmore's residence Dr. Milligan observed that the team they were driving was a fractious one, and that in Ashmore's inebriated condition it was liable to run away. He took the reins from Ashmore, and said he would drive; that he could manage the team better. Ashmore now showed the terrible indications of the frenzy and madness which terminated in the butchery of his wife. He drew a revolver and pointed it at Dr. Milligan, and told him to give up the reins or he would shoot him dead in an instant, at the same time cocking the pistol. Dr. Milligan, surprised at the violence manifested, jumped out of the buggy and started to walk back to the house of Dr. Ashmore. The latter started the team, but fell out of the buggy before going very far. Dr. Milligan ran to his assistance, stopped the team and assisted Dr. Ashmore to get in again. He then turned the buggy and drove back to the house.

Ashmore tied his team before his door and entered the house. In a short time he heard two shots fired in the house, one immediately after the other. He hurried as fast as possible to the house, with anxious feelings of trouble. Entering the house, a horrible spectacle met his sight. In the kitchen he discovered Dr. Ashmore engaged in the brutal task of chopping off the wife's breasts with a common hatchet. Mrs. Ashmore lay dead in the center of the kitchen floor, shot through the head. He had fired at her immediately on entering the house, and killed her while she was attempting to escape, by shooting her through the back of the head. He then picked up a hatchet, and was engaged in the atrocious act of chopping out her heart when Dr. Milligan entered the room. Ashmore immediately sought refuge or concealment behind a safe or bureau, and drew his revolver. Dr. Milligan, perceiving that it was a desperate case, requiring prompt and desperate action, rushed upon the drunken madman, when a desperate struggle ensued. Ashmore fought and struggled with the fury of a madman, which he certainly was. He received some heavy blows on the head and face from Dr. Milligan, and was, with some assistance, finally secured. It required the combined strength of ten men to take him from the house to the jail, so fierce and so superhumanly strong was he in his desperation. He is securely confined in jail, awaiting investigation. It is the most horrible affair ever known in Topeka, and has no doubt caused a great sensation in that beautiful young city.

No Panic--Fussy Anxiety of the Treasury Department--Well-Waiting to Inflate the Currency--No Excuse for such a Thing.

WASHINGTON, November 11.—The Boston calamity still continues to be of overshadowing importance here. Public attention has been especially directed to the Treasury Department to-day, where the Secretary sat in state all day, ready to inflate the currency by millions on the mere pretence of a temporary financial panic arising from the extraordinary losses by the Boston fire. He was not without encouragement from certain members of the Administration clique in Wall street, who urged large sales of bonds to force another dabble with the forty-four millions of retired currency. The despatches, however, which were received early in the day from Assistant Treasurers Havens, at Boston, and Hillhouse, at New York furnished abundant assurances that no panic was probable. The former telegraphed that there was no excitement, and that the losses by the fire, although large, fell on persons who were generally well and abundantly able to sustain them. Mr. Hillhouse telegraphed that though the stock market was greatly depressed neither government bonds nor gold had been very materially affected. Favorable reports from insurance companies also assisted in restoring confidence at the Department, and the day ended without Mr. Boutwell adding to the Boston visitation the curse of inflation.

Remarkable Freak of Lightning.

A very remarkable event occurred on the farm of Mr. Uriah Gartin, six miles east of Lebanon, last Saturday afternoon. A negro man was driving a team, consisting of two horses and two mules attached to a wagon, the driver being upon one of the horses, with a sheepskin under him. A rain was coming up, and he was driving in a trot to escape the threatened storm. A negro boy was on the wagon. When within a few hundred yards of the barn the team was struck by lightning. Three of the animals were instantly killed, and the fourth died within an hour or two. The negro man was thrown off, considerably shocked, but not seriously hurt. He says his head felt like it was afire, but he does not think he was rendered insensible. The boy on the wagon seeing the wagon had stopped, looked up, and observing that the horses were killed, made as good time as he could for the house, badly frightened. The escape of the driver, under the circumstances, is certainly very remarkable. The team killed was a fine one, worth about $800.—Lebanon (Ky) Standard.

Over the West, to crimson burning,
The sun, like a russet set in gold,
Gayer and brighter the flowers are shown,
Pastures its mantle fold on fold:
The sweet South wind is merrily blowing—
Still am I sad, for Summer is going—
Summer is going—Summer is gone!

Never a leaf on the tree is faded, Never a blade of the grass is seen,
Gayer and brighter the flowers are shown,
Pastures its mantle fold on fold:
The sweet South wind is merrily blowing—
Still am I sad, for Summer is going—
Summer is going—Summer is gone!

Brighter and brighter the skies are shining, Deeper and deeper the fresh air thrills, Larger and fuller the vines are twisting, Clearer than ever the distant hills:
The full dews sweep in their chilling and flowing,
Nothing is lost that is worth the knowing,
Only I feel that the Summer is going—
Summer is going—Summer is gone!

What do I mourn? Who knows? For surely Never was world more than now, From the harvest moon as it rides so purely
To the red-ripe apple upon the bough, What do I mourn? Alas, no knowing,
Nothing is lost that is worth the knowing,
Only I feel that the Summer is going—
